Facility Information

General Facility Information:

The Lockheed Martin Deer Creek Facility is located within a 711,000 square-foot facility owned by Lockheed Martin Properties. It is situated on 138 acres surrounded by 1,000 acres of Jefferson County open space. It is composed of two connecting trapezoidal structures that contain four above-grade levels and three levels partially or entirely subterranean, with rooftop and ground level parking. The west part of the building is an elevated structure connected to the second and third floors of the main building with three enclosed bridges. The building has a caisson supporting foundation systems. It is constructed of three structural steel cores and a steel beam supporting system. The building exterior is aluminum curtain panels with anodized natural finish and insulated, reflective, fixed-frame glass windows.

A guard station is located about 450 meters from the building which is the single road into the facility that is staffed by Allied Universal Security Services 24/7 to monitor access. A guard officer is also on duty at the main entrance of the building 24/7. Additionally there are two interior security officers 24/7. When you arrive at the guards shack show a valid ID or your LM Employee ID and they will direct you forward to the building. There are internal cameras that view selected building entrances with monitoring at the lobby guard reception desk. During non-working hours, the facility and property is continuously patrolled.

Emergency Services

West Metro Fire and Rescue provides emergency response to the Deer Creek Facility. Response time is 5 – 15 minutes). Dial 2-911 within the building and Allied Universal Security Services will receive your call and immediately call West Metro on a dedicated line.
